*****

In the process of selecting sector specialists for the UNDP-GEF-GOI-GOAP Project on mainstreaming Coastal and Marine Biodiversity, applications were invited from eligible candidates/specialists to prepare sectorial plans on contract basis under the output 2.1 of project document. An advertisement was given in an English paper "The Hindu" on Sunday October 28, 2012 under output 3.2 of project document. An advertisement was also given in www.devnet.jobsindia.org inviting online applications in the form of proposals for hiring sector specialists along with their organizational profile containing CVs/Resumes of specialist consultants.

In case of hiring of Fisheries sector specialists Two applications were received for hiring of Fisheries Sector Specialists one from (1) Dr. Padmavathi and (2) Dr. Narasimham. The following observations and decisions were made by the selection committee during the meeting

- i. Technical Advantage:- 1. Educationally both are qualified and No.1 Dr. Padmavathi has knowledge over inventory while the No.2 Dr. Narasimham has working experience and both have technical and managerial knowledge and experience.
- ii. Financial Advantage:- No.1 Dr. Padmavathi quoted Rs 4.95 Lakhs while the No.2 Dr. Narasimham quoted 6.00 Lakhs.

Decision Taken: - Committee opined that No.1 Dr. Padmavathi possessed desired qualification for the project as per ToR and quoted lowest quote of Rs. 4.95 Lakhs over No.2 individual Dr. Narasimham who has quoted of Rs. 6.00 Lakhs. Considering Technical and Financial aspects No.1 individual Dr. Padmavathi is shortlisted for the Fisheries sector specialist and recommended to be engaged as Fisheries Sector Specialist as per the conditions included in TOR.
